Why (2026-07-02): the first sweep (Opus 4.8) proved digest-level on 010 and 008; user directed a careful line-by-line re-evaluation of every remaining membrane under Fable 5, to the 008-sweep standard. This file accumulates the complete diplomatic text of deposition #1 — John Towneley (the counsel who drew the bill), which runs 001 → 002L → 002R → 003L.

[[P4D FOLD-IN, 2026-07-08 (user-approved)]] The Phase 4D line-index sweeps + the Phase-C zoom verdicts have been folded in: inline notes carry [[4D/zg: ...]]; contested readings stay flagged (△, lean-only); each membrane section ends with a fold-in block. Verdict every membrane: this baseline SURVIVES at substance level — the 4D layer adds line anchors, the correction stratum, and letterform-grade upgrades/contests. Systemic cautions: (1) the scribe's recurring "Edwardes^{henrie}" anticipation error before "Montague" (5+ occurrences, 001+002) — and TWO apparently uncorrected first mentions (002L L2 "Edw:", 002R R3 "Edwad") △△; (2) the instrum(en)ts-vs-instruc(i)ons crux: this file normalizes to "instrucions" throughout, but the per-site letterform leans SPLIT (8 sites logged, WORKING_002_LINE_INDEX.md §C.9) — never silently resolve; (3) in-line barred "f̄d" habit (established 006R/007) may apply to this file's "s^{[ai]d}" notations too — TNA class-check. ★ the deposition heading styles the cause "Rees ap Jevan Lloyd v. Richard Barker, Esq., & others" — the file's internal self-caption matches Coke's "Rice ap Evan ap Floyd v. Richard Barker," NOT the TNA catalogue title "Lloyde v Lewys" (which is drawn from the Answer's parties). Note the spelling "ap Jevan."

★ Structural signal: Towneley's FIRST recorded answer is to the 3rd interrogatory — articles 1–2 (the brother; William ap Rees — personal to Lloyd) were evidently not administered to him. Fits the one-instrument/selective-administration model discovered in the 008 sweep: Towneley answers the drawer-directed articles of the same 16-article set. Track his answer numbers through 002–003L to confirm. ⚠ the struck word at the answer's head ("E[?]dwal[es?]") — Edwardes??) is a verification item.

★ The roll→bill pipeline is explicit and fuller than the first sweep recorded: the great roll contained the charges, whose substance "were afterwards comprised in the said bill." The former "[Countrey?/Councell?]" crux is RESOLVED-leaning to "his Councell" (see note above) — the Council-in-the-Marches reading fades, the Welsh-idiom "country" reading retires.

★ Both canonical warnings — "not a party grieved" (the standing objection at the origin) and "in the nature of a conspiracy" (Coke's running head, pre-echoed by the bill's own counsel) — now sit verbatim in 001 with band anchors. The heavily struck/interlined clause around Towneley's refusal/advice is a verification target (what exactly did he "will" Lloyd to do?).

002L · Bands 1–2 (src y 82–1224) — Montague retained (forename!); "concerned Bulkeley's kindred more than Lloyd"

And so thereuppon the saide Jevan Ll[oyd] [did?] retayne[d] the s[ai]d S[erjean]t[?] [E?]w: Montague [forename — "E[d]w:?" 002L · Bands 3–4 (src y 1025–2182) — ★ the truth-vetting ran through SIR RICHARD BULKELEY

... this ex[aminan]t, havinge occasion to repayre u[nto] the s[ai]d S[i]r R[i]chard about Law busines w[hi]ch this ex[aminan]t had to deale in, for [that?] [the] S[i]r R[i]chard would then conferre w[i]th [him?] ... ★ Load-bearing recovery: the bill's own counsel says he took the instructions to Sir Richard Bulkeley to verify their truth ("justifie ... to be true" / "affirme the same") before conferring with Serjeant Montague — Towneley's own account places Bulkeley at the bill's vetting stage, exactly what the Court's Articles 4–5/10 (Bulkeley→Towneley directions; Towneley "of kynred" with Sir Richard) were hunting. The struck-and-corrected Montague forename is a verification item.

002L · Bands 5–6 (src y 2040–3196) — the struck Star-Chamber clause; Bulkeley AFFIRMS the instructions "true in the material points"

... the s[ai]d S[erjean]t ~~{A? Hen?}~~: Montague, touchinge the ~~Drawinge up of the course of the Starre chamber for the~~ [whole clause struck] & Drawinge up of a Bill uppon [the] instruccions or notes to the same effecte, whereof the s[ai]d [Jevan] [liked?] well //zg2margin bonus recovery: cleaner than the earlier "[_] the like ... well"//. ★ The affirmation is now anchored with its full setting: the conference happened when Towneley was with Bulkeley on Towneley's own unrelated business ("about his other causes"), and Sir Richard affirmed the instructions "true in the material points." The struck clause ("course of the Star Chamber") + the struck/corrected Montague forename (bands 4–5) are verification items.

002L · Bands 7–8 (src y 2547–4110, torn foot) — ★ MARGINAL NOTE; "~~Edward~~ ^Henry^ Montague" (twice); Montague's conditional opinion opens

(left margin, contemporary hand:) "S[ir] R[ichard?] [B.?] affirmed [the] [in]strucions in ~~some?~~ [struck] of the materiall points to bee true ." — an examiner's/clerk's marginal flag of the key admission. [zg2margin2 ✓ framed whole, 4 short lines: (i) the first-sweep "2[0?]" = the secretary B with point ("Sr R: B."); (ii) ★ the note itself carries a STRUCK word in the quantifier slot ("in ~~some~~ of the materiall points" → toward "in [all?]", or the reverse) — the examiner REVISED how much Bulkeley affirmed; which quantifier survived = professional item (the court side calibrating the key admission). 4D-2 C.1/C.2 rivals: m1 "E[x?] p 2[7?]: affirmed..." (cross-reference token?) and m2 "[s]lauderous / [sub]stance in [par?]te of" — load-bearing either way; TNA]]

(torn foot — Montague's conditional opinion continues on 002R.)

★ The serjeant's forename is resolved by the scribe's own double correction: "Edward" struck, "Henry" interlined — Serjeant Henry Montague (historically the Recorder of London, 1603–16). The bands-1–2 "[E?]w:" reading should be re-checked against this (likely the same Edward→Henry confusion). The marginal note is itself evidence of how the examination was USED — the court side flagged Bulkeley's affirmation.

002R · Bands 1–2 (src y 82–1224) — ★★ MONTAGUE: "examinable in the Star Chamber"; the PARLIAMENT-HOUSE vetting plan

... [whoe then affirmed that yf the same were] true, that then the same matters were examinable in the Starrechamber. And thereuppon this ex[aminan]t [re]plied that, yf it pleased him the s[ai]d S[erjean]t ~~struck~~^{henrie}, that he might at his next meetinge w[i]th the s[ai]d ~~struck~~ S[ir] R[ichard] Bulkley at the p[ar]liament howse conferre w[i]th the s[ai]d S[ir] Rich: Bulkley touchinge the truth of those instrucions, & so [re]ceave from him such satisfaccion as this deponent had done; wheruppon the s[ai]d S[erjean]t ~~struck~~^{henrie} Montague then seemed ...

★★ Doctrinally explosive pair: (1) Serjeant Henry Montague's professional opinion was that, if true, the matters WERE "examinable in the Starrechamber" — the precise inverse of the eventual holding ("not examinable in this court," per the HLS order) — so the bill was drawn on retained counsel's advice of examinability; (2) the truth-vetting was to be repeated at the Parliament House — Montague to take Bulkeley's affirmation there "as this deponent had done." The examination thus records TWO layers of counsel diligence (Towneley's Bulkeley conference; Montague's planned Parliament-House conference) behind the bill the Court then punished as libelous conspiracy.

002R · Bands 3–4 (src y 921–2182) — Montague "fully satisfied"; the bill drawn, perused, and READ OVER BY THE SERJEANT

★ The chain of production is explicit: drawn (by whom — interline, zoom target) → perused by Towneley → to Lloud → to Serjeant Henry Montague → Montague requests Towneley personally and reads over most of the bill in his presence. The "~~Edward~~^{Henry}" correction recurs twice more here. Note the evidentiary care: the request-to-come detail is marked "(as the said Lloud told this examinant)" — the deponent distinguishing hearsay from direct knowledge.

002R · Bands 5–6 (src y 1804–3196) — ★★ Montague keeps the bill THREE WEEKS; orders engrossment; STRIKES OUT ~A THIRD with his own hand

★★ The serjeant-editor: Montague retained the draft ~three weeks, ordered engrossment with amendments, and personally struck out about a third of the bill. The bill the Court would brand "devised ... libelous" and order defaced was, on the bill-side counsel's sworn account, vetted by two counsel, truth-affirmed by Bulkeley, opinion-cleared as "examinable," and reduced by a King's serjeant's own hand. (Heavy corrections in this zone — the struck/rewritten forename recurs; the "third parte" reading needs a verification zoom.) Net new vs the first sweep: the full Latin dating clause (examination date [xj?] June 5 Jac. 1607 + Scotland 40[+]); the file's own case self-caption ("in ca[usa] ... p[er] Res ap Jevan Lloyd con[tra] Ric[ard]um Barker Ar[migerum] & al[ios]"); Towneley's answers begin at the 3rd interrogatory (selective administration corroborated) and run sequentially (3 → 4); the "Floud" spelling inside the file; the great roll containing charges "afterwards comprised in the said bill"; Lloyd's purpose to retain two more counsel; both canonical warnings verbatim-anchored; multiple struck/interlined passages flagged.

... [the puttinge owt of a third] p[ar]te of the s[ai]d Bill; and afterwards the s[ai]d Bill was newlie [] copied & brought to the s[ai]d ~~Edw[ard]~~ Montague, who then ag[ain]e, after he had [read over the same], made some [question] of the truth of the matters therein conteyned, [and] did sett his hand to the s[ai]d Bill 4D-2 B.6: sharper than the earlier "[same]" ... And more [this ex[aminan]t] [] ... ...to the [?] Ju[l/n]ij 4D-2 B.1 NEW ⚠️: foot date + subscription fragments — "...to the [?] Ju[l/n]ij" + "[?]ramo[?]t" (candidates incl. "[iu?]ram[en]t[?]"); if "Junij" it coheres with 001's dating clause, if "Julij" it is a distinct later date; TNA (torn foot — the deposition concludes on 003L.)

★ The counsel-diligence chain closes with Montague's subscription: opinion ("examinable ... if true") → 3-week perusal → cut a third → fresh engrossment → truth questioned a second time → his hand set to the bill. The bill the Star Chamber branded libelous and defaced bore a King's serjeant's signature — precisely the "barrister's hand" the Court's own post-Floyd 15-sheet rule (HLS f.83r) would later demand.

4D-2 FOLD-IN (002): Census: L 38 lines + the 4-line marginal note; R ~38 lines + foot fragments — full log in _WORKING_002_LINE_INDEX.md. Inline above: marginal-note quantifier strike + m1/m2 rivals; drawne-by-Towneley interline resolution; "he mi[s]liked"; "did sett his hand to the s[ai]d Bill"; foot Ju[l/n]ij date; on-a-day rival; putt-owt initial. Correction stratum: full census = 9–11 events (vs "≥4"), incl. TWO apparently uncorrected first mentions (L2 "Edw:", R3 "Edwad") ⚠️ — strongest documentary signature of the Edward/Henry confusion; R3's struck-token-plus-^{henrie} left OPEN (4D could not confirm, baseline not overturned). Other contested: R1 head "[t?]yme[?]" vs "[were] true"; R10 "determ[in]ed" vs "seemed" (possibly BOTH in successive clauses); R35 "& they" vs "who then"; L21 strike-vs-interline attachment; the instrum/instrucions per-site split (header note). Explicit carets (L34; ^{had}/_{made}) now recorded.

★ MEMBRANE 002 RE-SWEEP COMPLETE (16/16 bands, 2026-07-02). Net new vs first sweep: Serjeant Montague's forename resolved by scribal self-correction ("~~Edward~~ Henry", ≥4 occurrences); the truth-vetting through Sir Richard Bulkeley ("justifie ... to be true" / "affirmed ... true in the materiall points" + the examiner's MARGINAL NOTE flagging it); Montague's examinability opinion ("if true ... examinable in the Starrechamber"); the Parliament-House conference plan; the three-week perusal; the one-third cut in the serjeant's own hand; the re-questioning of truth; the subscription ("did sett his hand"). The Towneley narrative is now a complete account of maximal professional mediation behind the bill.

★ The fee is now precise-ish (£4 + shillings, "and no other money of any other person") — the drawer-directed fee article answered by the drawer. ¶zg3fee (i) + 4D-3 B.7 △△ (ledger B4/B5, paired professional item): the header numeral favors "To . the 16 Interr[ed]" at zoom — but the CONTENT answers Art. 15's fee limb, and the deposition's CLOSING scope-objection answer was also read "To the 16": one of the two 1[5/6] headers on 003L is misread, or the clerk mis-keyed; note also the L3/L24 numeral pre-stroke anomaly (16-like "6"; duplicate stroke at the true 16)¶

003L · Bands 3–4 (src y 1025–2182) — ★★ the Article-13 answer: instructions from Lloyd "AND OF NO OTHER PERSON"; "not bound by the order"

★★ Two loaded recoveries: (1) the pivotal Article 13 (who instructed the insertion of the Barker-favor / stay-matters-in-Chancery / Leighton claims — the article Lloyd was "not appointed" to answer) was put to TOWNELEY, whose sworn answer is "by the instructions of ... Lloud, & of no other person" — flatly negating the Bulkeley-procurement theory at its core; (2) Towneley invokes the Court's own order as limiting his duty to answer ("taketh himself not bound by the order to make answer") — the selective-administration machinery visible from the deponent's side. The struck-and-corrected answer number ("13") shows the clerk keying answers to the instrument's numbering.

(signature, bottom right, autograph with flourish:) (T/ff?)ownley ¶4D-3 B.1 (ledger A8): letterform census — NO medial e ("Townley", vs this file's running "Towneley" style); the initial = T-swash vs ff-ligature AMBIGUOUS; no "[j?]" initial seen at eB (earlier "[j?]" withdrawn); TNA (initial + medial-e)¶

★★ Closing recoveries: (1) answer sequence FINAL: 3, 4, 5, 6, ¹³, 15, 16 — the drawer-relevant articles of the single 16-article instrument, confirming selective administration from the answer side; (2) Towneley twice invokes the Court's examination order as a scope limit ("not bound by the order ... to make answer"; Art 16 "not any way to concerne the matters of the order ... whereby this examinant is now examined") — the deponent policing the instrument's boundaries; (3) the deposition carries Towneley's autograph signature (not recorded in the first sweep).

¶P4D-3 FOLD-IN (003L): Census: 30 lines + signature + 2 marginal marks (N-zigzag nota beside the L15–16 payment passage; V-like paraph beside L24 — pattern-matches the 002L examiner-flag behavior; NEW, not in this file's earlier read) — full log in WORKING_003_LINE_INDEX.md. Inline above: the fee refinement + the 15/16 header pair; ¹³ eB-verified; received/executed; no-other-person restored; the Townley signature census. Also: L9 "some" (over "any") minor challenger; answer sequence 5, 6, ¹³, 15, 16 line-anchored (selective administration re-confirmed from the answer side).

★ TOWNELEY DEPOSITION RE-SWEEP COMPLETE (001 + 002L + 002R + 003L = 32 bands, 2026-07-02). The complete arc: Latin dating clause (June 1607, 5 Jac.) + the file's own caption (Lloyd v. Barker & al.) → Lloyd arrives with the great roll, "from his [Countrey?]," purposing a bill + two more counsel → Towneley's two warnings ("not a party grieved"; "in the nature of a conspiracy") → Bulkeley truth-vetting ("affirmed ... true in the materiall points," with examiner's marginal note) → Serjeant ~~Edward~~^{Henry} Montague retained; his opinion ("if true ... examinable in the Starrechamber"); Parliament-House plan; three-week perusal; cut a third with his own hand; re-questioned truth; set his hand to the bill → fee £4-odd "and no other money of any other person" → Art-13 answer: instructions from Lloyd "& of no other person" → scope objections → signature.
