

^c Because this worde was brought to contempt & derision, he wil teache them another maner of speache, and wil cause this worde Burden to cease, and teache them to aske with reuerence, What saith y^e Lord? d The thing which they mocke & contemne, shal come vpon them.

^e Or, take you away.

Chap. 20, 11.

^a The good figges signified the that were gone into captiuitie, and so saued their life, as chap. 21, 8. and the noghtie figges them y^e remained, which were yet subiect to the sworde, famine and pestilence.

^b Whereby he approueth the yielding of Ieconiah, & his companie, because they obeyed the Prophet, who exhorted them thereunto.

34 And the Prophet, or the Priest, or the people that shal say, The burden of the Lord, I wil euen visit euerie suche one, & his house.

35 Thus shal ye say euerie one to his neighbour, and euerie one to his brother, What hathe the Lord answered? and what hathe the Lord spoken?

36 And y^e burden of the Lord shal ye mention no more: for euerie mans^d worde shal be his burden: for ye haue peruered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to y^e Prophet, What hathe the Lord answered thee? and what hathe the Lord spoken?

38 And if you say, The burden of the Lord, Then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this worde, The burden of the Lord, and I haue sent vnto you, saying, Ye shal not say, The burden of the Lord,

39 Therefore beholde I, euen I, wil utterly forget you, and I wil forsake you, & the citie that I gaue you & your fathers, and cast you out of my presence,

40 And wil bring *an euertlasting reproche vpon you, & a perpetual shame which shal neuer be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIII.

^a The vision of the baskets of figges. ^s Signifieth that parte of the people shulde be brought againe from captiuitie. ^t And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people shulde be caried away.

1 The Lord shewed me, & beholde, two baskets of figges were set before y^e Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel had caried away captiue Ieconiah y^e sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had verie good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe: & the other basket had verie noghtie figges which coulde not be eaten, they were so euil.

3 Then said the Lord vnto me, What seest thou, Jeremiáh? And I said, Figges: the good figges verie good, & the noghtie verie noghtie, which can not be eaten, they are so euil.

4 Again the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israél, Like these good figges, so wil I knowe them that are caried away captiue of Iudah to be good, whome I haue sent out of this^b place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I wil set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I wil bring them againe to this land, and I wil buyld^e them, and not destroy them, and I wil plant them, and not roote them out,

7 And I wil giue them^c an heart to knowe me, that I am the Lord, and they shal be my^{*} people, and I wil be their God: for they shal retorne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 *And as the noghtie figges which can not be eaten, they are so euil (surely thus saith the Lord) so wil I giue Zedekiah the King of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this land, & them that dwell^d in the land of Egypt:

9 I wil euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproche, and for a prouerbe, for a commune talke, and for a curse, in all places, where I shal cast them.

10 And I wil send the sworde, the famine, and the pestilence among them, til they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

¹ He prophesieth that they shalbe in captiuitie seuentie yeres, ¹² And that after the seuentie yeres the Babylonians shulde be destroyed. ¹⁴ The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

1 The worde that came to Jeremiáh, concerning all the people of Iudah in the^a fourth yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah that was in the first yere of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel:

2 The which Jeremiáh the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, & to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirtieth yere of Iosiah the sonne of Ammon King of Iudah, euen vnto this daye (that is the thre and twentieth yere) the worde of the Lord hathe come vnto me, & I haue spoken vnto you^c rising early and speaking, but ye wolde not heare.

4 And the Lord hathe sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophetes, rising early and sending them, but ye wolde not heare, nor encline your eares to obeie.

5 Thei^d said, Turne againe now euerie one from his euil waie, and from the wickednes of your inuencions, & ye shal dwell in the land that the Lord hathe giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And go not after other gods to serue the & to worship them, and prouoke me not to angre with the workes of your hands, & I wil not punish you.

7 Neuertheles ye wolde not heare me, saith the Lord, but haue prouoked me to angre with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my wordes,

9 Beholde, I wil send and take to me all the

^e Which declareth that man of himselfe can knowe nothing, til God giue the heart and vnderstanding.

Chap. 31, 33. ^f 18. ^g Chap. 29, 17.

^d Which sheweth rather for long court.

^a That is, in the third yere accomplished, & in the beginning of the fourth: for though Nebuchadnezzar began to reigne in the end of the thirde yere of Iehoiakims reigne, yet that yere is not here counted, because it was almost expired, Dan 1, 1. ^b Which was the fift yere & the ninth moneth of Iehoiakims reigne. ^c That is, I haue spared no diligence or labour, Chap. 7, 13.

^d He sheweth that the Prophetes wholly with one consent did labour to pul y^e people from those vices, & then reigned: rowit, fro 180. ^e Latria, and the vaine confidence of men: for vnder these two all other were contained. 2 King 17, 13. cha 18, 11 & 35, 15. Iosiah, 1, 14.