Col. I.

25.

26.

27.

28.

29.

this empire; by the grace of Auramazda do I hold this empire.

§ X. (Thus) saith Darius, the king: This is what was done by me after I became king. He who was named Cambyses, the son of Cyrus, one of our race, was king here before me. That Cambyses had a brother, Smerdis by name, of the

25. m[aiy] ima khšatram frâbara Auramazdâmaiy upastâm abara yâtâ ima khšatram 26. ha[ma]dârayai[y] vašnâ Auramazdâha ima khšatram dârayâmiy § X. thâ- 27. tiy Dârayavauš khšâyathiya ima tya manâ kartam pa-âva yathâ khš 28. âyathiya abavam Ka(m)bujiya nâma Kurauš putra amâkham taumây- 29. â hauvam idâ khšâyathiya âha avahyâ Ka(m)bujiyahyâ brâ

[1] The reading Auramazdam[aiy] ima, in place of Auramazda manâ, is certain.

[2] For the Middle Voice form ha[ma]dârayai[y] cf. hamatakhšaiy, Col. I. ll. 68, 70. The traces of the first three characters of the word are ; they are quite clear upon the rock.

[3] The reading taumâyâ hauvam is certain.