

of the host, till they were consumed.

And whan all the men of warre were consumed, so & they were deed amonge the people, the LORDE spake vnto me, and sayde: This daie shalt thou go thorow the coast of Moabites by Ar, & shalt come nye vnto children of Ammon, whom thou shalt not were ner prouoke. For I wyll not geue the of the lode of the childre of Ammon to possesse, for I haue geue it vnto the childre of Lot in possession. It was take for a lode of giants also, & giants dwelt therein afore tyme. And the Ammonites calleth Samsumims, which was a people that was greete, many, and of hye stature, as the Enakims.

And these & LORDE destroyed before the, and let them possesse the same, so that they dwelt in their steade. Like as he dyd with the childre of Esau, which dwell vpo mount Seir, whan he destroyed the houses before them: and let them possesse the same, so that they haue dwelt in their steade vnto this daye. And the Caphthorims came out of Caphther, and destroyed the Anims (which dwell at Hazarim euen vnto Gaza) & there dwelt they in their steade.

Get you vp now, and departe, and go ouer the ryuer Arnon. Beholde, I haue geue Sihon & kynge of the Amorites at Heshbon into thy hande: go to and conquere, and prouoke him vnto battayll. This daye wyll I begynne, so that all nacions vnder all the heauen, shal feare & drede: In so moch & whā they heare of the, they shal tremble and quake for thy commynge.

Then sent I messengers from & wylder nesse of the East vnto Sihon the kynge at Heshbon & w peaceable wordes, and caused to saye vnto him: I wil go but thorow & lode, I wil go a longe by the hye waye, I wil neither turne to the righte hāde ner to & lefte. Thou shalt sell me meate for money, that I maye eate: & water shalt thou sell me for money, that I maye drinke. Onely let me go thorow by fore, as the childre of Esau (which dwell at Seir) dyd vnto me: and the Moabites that dwell at Ar: vntyll I be come ouer Jordane, into the londe which the LORDE oure God shal geue vnto vs.

But Sihon the kynge at Heshbon wolde not let vs go by him: for the LORDE & God hardened his mynde, & made his hert tough that he mighte deluyner him in to thy hādes, as it is come to passe this daye.

And & LORDE sayde vnto me: Beholde, I haue begonne to deluyner Sihon with his londe before the: go to and conquere, and pos-sesse his lode. And Sihon came out w all his people to fight agaynst vs at Jahza. But the LORDE oure God deluynerd him in to oure handes, so that we smote him with his childre and all his people.

Then toke we all his cities at the same tyme, and destroyed vterly all the cities, men, women, and childre, and let none remayne: save the catell, which we caught to oure selues, & the spoyle of the cities that we wanne from Aror, which lyeth vpon the ryuer syde of Arnon, and from the cite on the ryuer vnto Gilead. There was no cite that coulde defende it selfe from vs: the LORDE oure God deluynerd vs all before vs. But vnto the londe of the childre of Ammon thou camest not, ner to all that was on the ryuer Jabok, ner to & cities vpo & mountaynes, ner vnto what so euer the LORDE oure God forbade vs.

The III. Chapter.

Now we turned vs, & wente vp & wale vnto Basan. And Og & kynge of Basan, came out w all his people to fight agaynst vs at Edrei. But the LORDE sayde vnto me: Be not afrayed of him, for I haue deluynerd him & all his people w his londe in to thy hande: & thou shalt do w him, as thou dydest w Sihon kynge of & Amorites, which dwell at Heshbon. Thus & LORDE oure God deluynerd Og & kynge of Basan in to oure handes also with all his people: so that we smote him, till there was nothinge left euer vnto him.

Then wanne we at the same tyme all his cities, & there was not one cite that we toke not from him, euen thre score cities, the whole region of Argob in the kyngdome of Og at Basan. All these cities were strōge, with hye walles, gates, and barres, besyde many other vnwalld townes.

And we vterly destroyed them, as we dyd with Sihon the kynge at Heshbon. All the cities destroyed we vterly, and the men, women, and childre. But all the catell and spoyle of the cities caughte we for oure selues.

Thus toke we at the same tyme the londe out of the honde of the two kynges of the Amorites beyonde Jordane, from the ryuer of Arnon vnto mount Hermon (which the Sidons call Sirion, but the Amorites call it Senir) all the cities vpon the playne, and all Gilead, and all Basan vnto Salcha and Edrei, the cities of the kyngdome of Og at Basan. For onely Og the kynge of Basan remayned ouer of the giants. Beholde, his yron bed is here at Rabath amonge the childre of Ammon, nyne cubites longe, and foure cubites brode, after the cubite of a man.

This londe conquered we at the same tyme, from Aror that lyeth on & ryuer of Arnon. And vnto the Rubenites and Gadites I gaue halfe mount Gilead with the cities therof: but & remnant of Gilead, & all Basan the kyngdome of Og, gaue I vnto the halfe trybe of Manasse. The whole region of Argob with all Basan was called the giants londe.

Jair the sonne of Manasse toke all the region of Argob vnto the coastes of Gessuri and Maachati, and Basan called he Ha-noth Jair after his awne name, vnto this daye: But vnto Machir I gaue Gilead. And vnto the Rubenites and Gadites I gaue one parte of Gilead vnto the ryuer of Arnon (at the myddes of the ryuer is & border) and vnto the ryuer Jabok, which is the border of the childre of Ammon: the felde also, and Jordane (which is the coaste) from Cinereth vnto the see in the felde, namely, & Salt see vnder mount Pisga, Eastwarde.

And I commaunded you at the same tyme, and sayde: The LORDE oure God hath geuen you this londe to take possession of it. Go youre waye forth therfore harnessed be fore youre brethien the childre of Israel, all ye that be mete for the warre. As for youre wyues, and childre and catell (for I knowe that ye haue moch catell) let them remayne in youre cities, which I haue geuen you, vntill the LORDE oure God haue broughte ye brethien to rest also as well as you, that they also maye take possession of the londe, which & LORDE oure God shal geue the beyonde Jordane: and then shal ye turne agayne to youre awne possession, which I haue geuen you.

And I warned Josua at the same tyme, and sayde: Thine eyes haue sene all that the LORDE oure God hath done vnto these two kynges: eue so shal the LORDE do also vnto all & kyngdomes whither thou goest. Feare them not, for the LORDE oure God shal fight for you.

And I besoughte the LORDE at the same tyme, & sayde: O LORDE LORDE, thou hast be gonne to shewe & seruante thy greatnesse and thy mightie hāde. For where is there a God in heauen & earth, that can do after & workes and after thy power? O let me go & se & good londe beyonde Jordane, & goodly hye countre, and Libanus.

But the LORDE was angrie with me for youre sakes, and wolde not heare me, but sayde vnto me: Be content, speake nomore to me of this matter. Get the vp to the toppe of mount Pisga, and lifte vp thine eyes toward the west, and toward the north, and toward the south, and toward & east: and beholde it with thine eyes, for thou shalt not go ouer this Jordane. And geue Josua his charge, and corage him, and bolde him, for he shal go ouer Jordane before the people, and shal dewye vnto them the londe, that thou shalt se. And so we abode in the valley ouer agaynst the house of Peor.

The III. Chapter.

Now hearken Israel vnto the ordinaunces and lawes, which I teach you that ye do them, & ye maye lyeue, and come in, & take possession of the londe, which the LORDE God of yo fathers geueth vnto you. Ye shal put nothinge vnto the worde which I commaunde you, neither do oughte therefrom, that ye maye kepe the commandementes of the LORDE oure God, which I commaunde you. Your eyes haue sene what the LORDE hath done w Baal Peor: all them that walked after Baal Peor, hath the LORDE thy God destroyed from amonge you. But yet that cleue vnto the LORDE yo God, are all aliue this daye. Beholde I haue taughte you ordinaunces and lawes, sod as the LORDE my God commaunded me, that ye shulde do eue so in the londe, in to & which ye shal come, to possesse it.

Kepe them now therfore and do them: for that is youre wysdome and vnderstondinge in the sight of all nacions, which whā they haue herde all these ordinaunces, shal saye: O what a wyse and vnderstondinge folke is this: and how excellent a people: for where is there so excellent a nation, that hath goddes so nye him, as the LORDE oure God is nye vnto vs, as oft as we call vpon him: And where is there so excellent a nation, that hath so righteous ordinaunces and lawes, as all this lawe which I laye before you this daye.

Take hede to thy selfe now, and kepe well thy soule, that thou forget not the thinges which thine eyes haue sene, and that they be parte not out of thy hert all the dayes of thy life. And thou shalt teach them thy childre and thy childers childre, the daye whā thou stodest before the LORDE thy God by mount Horeb, whan the LORDE sayde vnto me: Gather me the people together,
