

Thou mayst not offer passeouer wythin any of thy gates, whych the Lorde thy God geueth the: but * in the place which the Lord thy God shall chose, to set his name in, there thou shalt offer passeouer at euē, aboute the gopnge downe of the sonne, euen in the creason y thou camest out of Egypte. And thou shalt sette and eate it, in the place which the Lorde thy God hath chosen, and departe on the morowe, & gett the vnto thy tēte. Syxe dayes thou shalt eat swete bread, and the seuenth daye is a gatherynge together befoze the Lorde thy God: thou shalt do no worke therein. * Seuen weekes shalt thou nōbre vnto the, and begynne to nōbre the seuen weekes, when thou begynnest to put the shevell to the corne, * & kepe the feast of weekes vnto the Lorde thy God, wyth a frewyllofferunge of thynne hande: which thou shalt geue vnto the Lorde thy God, accordynge as the Lorde thy God hath blessed the. And reioyse befoze the Lorde thy God, thou & thy sonne, thy daughter, thy seruaunte & thy mayde and the Leuite that is within thy gates, and the straunger, the fatherlesse & the wedowe that are amonge you, in the place whych the Lorde thy God hath chosen to put hys name there. And remembre, that thou wast a seruaunte in Egypte: and thou shalt obserue & do these ordinaunces.

Thou shalt also obserue the feast of tabernacles seuen dayes, after that thou hast gathered in thy corne and thy wyne. And thou shalt reioyse in that thy feast, thou and thy sonne, thy daughter, thy seruaunte, and thy mayde, the Leuite, the strainger, and the fatherlesse & the wedowe, that are wythin thy gates. * Seuen dayes shalt thou kepe holy dape vnto the Lorde thy God, in the place whych the Lorde shall chose: for the Lord thy God shall blesse the in all thy frutes, and in all the workes of thynne hādes, therfore shalt thou be glad. * The tymes in the pere shall all thy males appeare befoze the Lorde thy God, in the place which he shall chose: In the feast of swete bread, in the feast of weekes, & in the feast of tabernacles. And they shall not * appeare befoze the Lorde emptye but euer y man accordynge to the gyfte of hys hāde, & accordynge to the blessinge of the Lorde thy God whych he hath geuen the.

Judges and officers shalt thou make the in all thy cyties, whych the Lorde thy God geueth the thozowe out thy trybes: and they shall iudge the people ryghteously. * Wress not thou the lawe, nor knowe any persone, nether take any rewarde: for gyftes blynde the wyse, & peruerce the wordes of the ryghteous. That whych is iust and ryght, shalt thou folowe, that thou mayst lye, and enioye the lande, which the Lorde thy God geueth the.

Thou shalt plante no groue of whatsoeuer trees it be, nye vnto y altare of the Lorde thy God, which thou shalt make y. Thou shalt set the vy no * piler, whiche the Lorde thy God hateth.

The xvij. Chapter.
The punishment for idolatrye. The punishment of a rebell. The instruction of a kynge.

Thou shalt offer vnto the Lorde thy God no ore nor shepe * where in is blemyshe or any deformite: for that is an abhominacyon vnto the Lorde thy God.

If there be founde amonge you wyth in any of thy gates, whych the Lorde thy God geueth the, man, or woman y hath wrought wyckednesse in the syghte of the Lorde thy God, so that they haue gone beyōde hys appoyntment, and gone and serued strange goddes, and worshypped them * the sonne or moone or any of the host of heauē, which I haue not commaunded, & it is tolde the, and thou hast heard of it: then shalt thou enquire diligently. And yf it be true, & the thyng of a luctye, y so: he abhominacion is wrought in y Israel, then shalt thou bynne forth y mā or that womā (whyche haue committed that wycked thinge) vnto the gates, and shalt stone them wyth stones, tll they dye. * At the mouth of two or thre witnesses shall he that is worthy of death, dye: and at the mouth of one wytnesse let no man dye. The handes of the wytnesses shall be fyrst vpon hym, to kyl hym, and afterwarde the handes of the people, & thou shalt put the wycked awaye from the.

If there ryse a matter to harde for the iudgement betwene bloud and bloud, betwene plee and plee, betwene plage and plage, and the matters come to styfe wythin thy gates, Then shalt thou arple, ad get the vnto the place which the Lorde thy God hath chosen, and come vnto the preastes the Leuites, and vnto the iudge that shall be in those dayes, and aske * and they shall shewe the y sentence of iudgement. And thou must do accordynge to that, whych they of that place (which the Lorde had chosen) shewe the and thou shalt obserue to do, accordynge to all that they enfourme the. Accordynge to the sentence of the lawe which they teache the, & accordynge to the iudgement which they tell the, shalt thou do, and * bowe not from that which they shewe the, nether to y right hāde nor to the lefte.

And that mā that will do presumptuously, and wyll not herken vnto the preast (that standeth there befoze the Lorde thy God to mynstre) or vnto the iudge, that man shall dye: and thou shalt put awaye euell from y Israel. And all the people shall heare and feare, and shall do no more presumptuously. When

When thou art come vnto y lande whych the Lorde thy God geueth the, and enioyest it, and dwellest therein: & yf thou shalt saye. * I wyll set a kynge ouer me lyke as all the nacjons that are aboute me: The thou shalt make hym kynge ouer the, whom the Lorde thy God shall chose: Euen one from amonge thy brethre shalt thou make kynge ouer the, and thou mayst not set a strainger ouer the, whych is not of thy brethzen. * But he shall not multiplie horses to him selfe, ner bynne the people agayne to Egypte thozowe the multitude of horses, for as moche as y Lord hath sayde vnto you: ye shall hence forth go no moare agayne y waye. Also he * ought not to multiplie wyues to hym selfe, lest his hert turne awaye, nether shall he gether him y slyner and golde to moch.

And when he is sett vpon the seate of hys kyngedome, he shall wypte hym out a coppe of thys lawe in a boke, befoze y preastes the Leuites. And it shall be wyth him, & he ought to reade therein * all dayes of hys lyfe, that he maye lerne to feare the Lorde hys God, & to kepe all y wordes of thys lawe and the ordinaunces, for to do them: and that hys hert arple not aboute hys brethzen, & that he turne not from the commaundement: to the ryght hande or to the lefte, but that he maye prolonge hys dayes in hys kyngdome: he, and hys chyldren in y Israel.

The xvij. Chapter.
The Leuites had no possesys. Idolatrye must be fled. The prophet chist is y m. fer. The false prophet must be slayne, & how he may be known.

The preastes the, Leuites, and all the trybe of Leuy * must haue no parte nor enheritaunce wyth y Israel: but shall eate the offringes of the Lorde, and hys enheritaunce: Therfore shall they haue no enheritaunce amonge their brethzen: But the Lorde, he is their enheritaunce, as he hath sayde vnto the. And this is the preastes dutie of the people, and of them that offer, whether it be ore or shepe: They must geue vnto the preaste, the shoulder, and the two chekes, and the mawe the fyrst frutes also of thy corne, wyne and oyle, and the fyrst of y woll of thy shepe shalt thou geue hym: * For the Lorde thy God hath chosen hym out of all thy trybes, to stande and to minstre in the name of the Lorde: he and hys sonnes for euer. If a Leuite come out of any of thy cyties of all y Israel, wher he is a sojourner, and come wythall the lust of hys herte vnto the place whych the Lorde hath chosen: he shall mynstre in the name of the Lorde hys God, as hys other brethre the Leuites do, whych remaine there befoze the Lorde. And they shall haue lyke porcyons to eate, besyde that whych cometh to hym of the patrimonye of hys elders.

When thou arte come into y lande whych the Lorde thy God geueth the, it that thou lerne not to do after y abhominacions of thole nacjons. Let ther not be founde amonge you any one, that maketh hys sonne or daughter to go thozowe the fyre, or that vseth wythcraft, or a choler out of dayes * or that regardest the flyenge of foules, or a sozcerar, or a charmar, or that counceleth wyth spytes, or a sothfayer, or that asketh * (the truth) at the that be deed. For all that do soch thynge, are abhominacyon vnto the Lorde: and because of these abhominacions the Lorde thy God doeth cast the out befoze the. Thou shalt be perfecte therfore * (without blemyshe) in the syght of the Lorde thy God. For these nacjons whych thou shalt conquere, herken vnto chosers oute of dayes, and vnto sozcerers: But the Lorde thy God hath not suffered the so to do.

The Lorde thy God wyll * sty y vnto the a prophete amonge you: euen of thy brethzen, lyke vnto me: vnto hym ye shall herke, accordynge to all that thou desyredest of the Lorde thy God in horeb, in the daye of the gatherynge together, when thou saydest: * Let me heare the voyce of my Lorde God no moare, nor se thys greate fyre any moare, that I dye not. And the Lorde sayde vnto me: they haue well spoken: I will rayse them vp a prophete from amonge their brethzen lyke vnto the, and wyll put my wordes in hys mouth, and he shall speake vnto them all that I shall commaunde hym. And whosoeuer will not herken vnto the wordes which he shall speake in my name, I wyll requyre it of hym.

But the prophete which shall presume to speake a worde in my name, whych I haue not commaunded hym to speake, or that speaketh in the name of strange goddes, the same prophete shall dye. And yf thou saye in thynne hert: howe shall we knowe the worde whych the Lorde hath not spoken? * The tokens shalt thou haue. Ene whē a prophete speaketh in the name of the Lord, & yf y thyng folowe not nor come to passe, that is the thyng whiche y Lord hath not spoken. But the prophete hath spoken it presumptuously: Thou shalt not therfore be afrayed of him.

The xix. Chapter.
The franchysed towncs. The punishment of hym that beareth false wytnesse.

When the Lorde thy God * hath rosted out the nacjons, whose lande the Lorde thy God geueth the, and thou succedest in their enheritaunce, and dwellest in they cyties, and in they houses: thou shalt * appoynte iij. cyties for y in the myddes of the lande whych the Lorde thy God geueth the to possesse it: & thou shalt prepare the waye, and deuyde the coastes of
