thou hast hearkened vnto the voyce of thy wyse, and hast eaten of the tre, wherof I commaunded the, sayenge: thou shalt not eate of it. Cursed be y^e earth for thy sake. With sorowe shalt thou eate therof, all the dayes of thy life. Thornes and thistles shalt it beare vnto the, and thou shalt eate the herbes of the felde. In the sweate of thy face shalt thou eate thy bred, tyll thou be turned agayne vnto earth, whence thou art take: for earth thou art, and vnto earth shalt thou be turned agayne.

Ecc. 40. b
Iob 34. b

And Adam called his wyse Hena, because she is the mother of all luyng. And the LORDE God made Adam & his wyse garments of skynnes, & these he put on them. And the LORDE God sayde: lo, Adam is become as it were one of vs, & knoweth good & euell. But now lest he stretch his hande, and take also of the tre of life, and eate, and lyeue for ever. Then the LORDE God put him out of the garden of Eden, to tyll y^e earth, wher he was take. And he cast Adam out. And before the garden of Eden he set Cherubes, and a naked syre swerde, to kepe y^e waye vnto the tre of life.

The iij. Chapter.

A Grower Adam laye with Hena his wyse, which conceaued & bare Cain, and sayde, I haue opeyned y^e man of the LORDE. And she proceeded forth, & bare his brother Abel. And Abel became a shepheard, but Cain became an husbanded man.

Heb. 11. a

And it fortuneth after certayne daies, that Cain brought of the frute of the earth, an offering vnto y^e LORDE. And Abel brought also of the firstlinges of his shepe, and of y^e fat of them. And the LORDE had respecte vnto Abel, and to his offeringe: but vnto Cain and his offeringe he looked not. Then was Cain exceedinge wroth, and his countenance chaunged. And the LORDE sayde vnto Cain: Why art thou angrie? and why doth thy countenance chaunge? Is it not so: that yf thou do well, thou shalt receaue it: but and yf thou do euell, thy synne lyeth open in the doore? Shal he then be subdued vnto the? and wilt thou rule him? And Cain talked with Abel his brother.

Heb. 12. d

And it happened, that whan they were in the felde, Cain arose agaynst Abel his brother, and slew him. Then sayde the LORDE vnto Cain: Where is Abel thy brother? He sayde: I can not tell. Am I my brothers keeper? And he sayde: What hast thou done? The voyce of thy brothers bloude crieth vnto me out of the earth. And now shalt thou be cursed vpon the earth, which hath opened hir mouth, and receaued thy brothers bloude of thine hande. Whan thou tyllest y^e ground, she shall hensforth not geue hir power vnto the. A vagabunde and a rennagate shalt thou be vpon y^e earth. And Cain sayde vnto y^e LORDE: my synne is greater, then that it maye be forgiven me. Beholde, thou castest me out this daye from out of y^e lande, and from y^e sight must I hyde myself, and must be a vagabunde and a rennagate vpon y^e earth. And thus shal it go with me: that who so fyndeth me, shal slaye me.

But the LORDE sayde thus vnto him: Who so euer slayeth Cain, it shalbe auenged sevenfold. And the LORDE put a marke vpon Cain, that no man which founde him, shulde kyll him. So Cain wente out from y^e face of the LORDE, and dwelt in the lande Nod, vpon the east syde of Eden.

And Cain laye with his wyse, which conceived and bare Henoche. And he buylded a cite, and called it after the name of his sonne Henoche. And Henoche begat Irad, Irad begat Mahuial. Mahuial begat Mathusael. Mathusael begat Lamech.

And Lamech toke him two wyues: y^e one was called Ada, & the other Zilla. And Ada bare Jabel, of whom came they that dwelt in tentes and had catell. And his brothers name was Jubail: Of him came they that occupied harpes & pypes. And Zilla she also bare Tubalcain, a worker in all connynges poyntes of metall & yron. And Tubalcains sister was called Naama.

And Lamech sayde vnto his wyues Ada and Zilla: Heare my voyce (ye wyues of Lamech) and hearken vnto my wordes: for I haue slayne a man, and wounded myselfe; and (haue kylled) a yongeman, and gotten myself stripes. Cain shalbe auenged seven tymes: but Lamech seven and seuentie tymes.

Adam laye yet with his wyse agayne, & she bare a sonne, and called him Seth. For God (sayde she) hath apointed me another sede, for Abel, whom Cain slew. And Seth begat a sonne also, and called him Enos. At the sametyme beganne men to call vpon the name of the LORDE.

The V. Chapter.

This is the boke of the generacion of man, in the tyme whan God created man, and made him after the similitude of God. Male and female made he them, and blessed the, & called their names Man, in the tyme whan they were created. And Adam was an hundred and thirtie yeare olde, and begat a sonne, which was like his owne ymage, and called his name Seth: & luyed thereafter eight hundred yeare, and begat sonnes and daughters. And his whole age was nyne hundred and thirtie yeares, and so he dyed.

Re. 2. a

Henoche was fyue and thre score yeare olde, and begat Mathusalah: and led a godly conuersacion thre hundred yeares thereafter, and begat sonnes & daughters. And his whole age was thre hundred and fyue and thre score yeares. And for so moch as he luyed a godly life, God toke him awaye, & he was nomore sene.

Mathusalah was an hundred & seue and foure score yeare olde, & begat Lamech: and luyed thereafter seven hundred and two and foure score yeare, and begat sonnes & daughters. And his whole age was nyne hundred and nyne and tre score yeares, and so he dyed.

Lamech was an hundred and two and foure score yeare olde, and begat a sonne, & called him Noe, and sayde: This same shall cosorte vs in oure workes, and in the sorowe of oure bondes vpon the earth, which the LORDE hath cursed. After this he luyed fyue hundred and fyue & nyentie yeare, and begat sonnes and daughters. And his whole age was seven hundred seven and seuentie yeares, and so he dyed.

Gen. 3. d

Noe was fyue hundred yeare olde, and begat Sem, Ham and Japhet.

The VI. Chapter.

So whan men beganne to multiplie vpon the earth, and had begot them daughters, the children of God sawe the daughters of men, that they were fayre, and toke vnto the wyues soch as they liked. Then sayde y^e LORDE: My spere shal not allwaye stryue with man, for he is but flesh also. I wil yet geue him respyte an hundred and twety yeares. There were giants also in the worlde at that tyme. For whan the children of God had lyeu with the daughters of men, and begotten them children, y^e same (children) became mightie in the worlde, and men of renoune.

Esa. 42. c

But whan the LORDE sawe y^e wickednes of man was increased, vpon y^e earth, and that all y^e thought and imaginacion of their hert was but onely euell continually, it repented him, that he had made man vpon the earth, and he sorowed in his hert, and sayde: I wyll destroye man kynde which I haue made, from the earth: both man, best, worne, and foule vnder the heauen: for it repented me, that I haue made them. Neuer theles Noe founde grace in the sight of the LORDE.

This is y^e generacion of Noe. Noe was a righteous and perfecte man, and led a godly life in his tyme, and begat thre sonnes: Sem, Ham and Japhet. Norwithstandinge y^e earth was corrupte in y^e sight of God, and full of myschefe. Then God looked vpon y^e earth: and lo, it was corrupte (for all flesh had corrupte his waye vpon the earth.)

Ecc. 44. b

Then sayde God vnto Noe: Then ende of all flesh is come before me, for the earth is full of myschefe before them. And lo, I wyll destroye them with the earth. Make the an Arcke of pyne tre, and make chambers in it,
