AND the serpent was suttiller then euery beast of the field which y lord God hadde made, and he sayde vnto the woman: yea, hath^(a) God saide, ye shall not eate of euery tree of the garden:

2 And the woman sayde vnto the serpent: we eate of y fruite of the trees of the garden.

3 But as for the fruite of the tree which is in the myddes of the garden, God hath sayde, ye shall not eate of it, neither shal ye touche of it, ^(b) lest peraduenture ye dye.

4 And *the serpent sayde vnto the woman: ye ^(c) shall not dye the death.

5 For God doth knowe, that the same day that ye eate therof, your eyes shall be opened, and ^(d) ye shalbe euē as gods, knowyng good and euyl.

6 And so the woman, seing that the same tree was good to eate of, and pleasaunt to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, toke of the fruite therof, and dyd ^(e) eate, and gaue also vnto her husbande beyng with her, and he dyd eate.

7 Then the eyes of them both were opened, and they knewe that they were naked, and they solwed ^(f) sygge leaues together, & made them selues apernes.

8 And they heard the voyce of the Lord God, walkyng in the garden in y coole of the day: and Adam and his wyfe ^(g) hyd them selues from the presence of the lord God amongst y trees of the garden.

9 And the Lorde called Adam, & sayde vnto hym: Where art thou?

10 which sayde: I hearde thy voyce in the garden, and was afrayde ^(h) because I was naked, and hyd my selfe.

11 And he sayde; who tolde thee that thou wast naked: hast thou not eaten of the same tree, concernyng the which I commaunded thee that thou shouldest not eate of it?

12 And Adam said: The woman whom thou ganest [to be] with me, ⁽ⁱ⁾ she gaue me of the tree, and I dyd eate.

13 And the Lord God sayd vnto the woman: why hast thou done this? And the woman sayde: the serpent begyled me, and I dyd eate.

14 And the lord god said vnto y ^(k) serpent: Because
